

ALARM!

The car alarm inside my head
The ticking clocks and the things they said
They drive me insane when I'm on my own

Kicking in the long grass
Fake a triple bypass
Filling out a time sheet
Restricted by five feet
Casting the revival
While planning out the vinyl
Sitting idle but ain't got time

I'm getting out of this script
Now I'm getting out of this script

'Cos alcohol induced pains
And cigarette stains
Just nodding along when you hear your name
Scratching at the glass house
Looking for a new pass
I'd get down track but ain't got time

The car alarm inside my head
The singing birds are the things I dread
They drive me insane when I'm on my own

Kicking in the long grass
Fake a triple bypass
Filling out a timesheet
Restricted by five feet
Casting the revival
While planning out the vinyl
Sitting idle but ain't got time

I'm getting out of this script
Now I'm getting out of this script

The twelfth, the fifth, the sixth, the tenth
Broken chorus and missing synth
August come; our deadline met
A time to rinse and reset

The twelfth, the fifth, the sixth, the tenth
Broken chords and missing synth
August come; our deadline met
No repeat, and no regret

The car alarms inside my head
The ticking clocks and the things they said
Configuring a jukebox
Classifying new socks
I'd layout track, but ain't got time
